Side Walk Committee Makes A Report

The committee appointed at the entertainment on the 23rd ult., gotten up by Mr. Moen for the purpose of creating a fund to cover the cost of a public walk from the town to the cemetery, met at the Wrangell Hotel 9 P. M. 25th ult. All the members were present, viz. J. G. Grant, Wm. H. Lewis, Ole Johnson, F. Matheson and Nels Moen.

Ways and means were fully discussed and it was decided that the committee would go over the ground and afterwards determine whether it were best to adopt Mr. Moen's idea of building a gravel walk with a ditch on the upper side and culverts, or whether it would be best to build a plank walk for part of the distance, the proposed walk to be six feet wide. The distance from Mr. Moen's dairy to the turn at the head of the bay is 2025 feet. The total distance to the cemetery is 4750 feet. A plank walk to the head of the bay of 2 inch planking with 3x6 stringers would cost $417.00 for the lumber.

Another entertainment to help the good work along, was proposed for Saturday, the 6th of May when Mrs. J. E. Worden has courteously consented to give a musicale at the Redmen's Hall to which an admission of twenty-five cents will be charged.

The following programme will be rendered:

May Vote

Natives of Alaska who are members of the Greek Church are American citizens, according to the treaty made in the transfer of Alaska to the United States. They may vote in elections in the territory of Alaska. Other natives, however, who have become Americanized but are not members of the orthodox church, may not exercise the franchise.

The granting of the franchise to the Russian natives, or, rather to the natives who bow in religious allegiance to the Greek pope, was brought about by a clever piece of diplomacy on the part of the Russian officials who represented their country in the drawing up of the treaty with this government.

Some of the natives of the orthodox church voted in the last delegate election. Several hundred did not, but these will gradually come to realize their privilege and it is possible they may exercise some influence in the elections of the future.

A New Town

Fish Egg is the name of a new town recently started on the west coast of Prince of Wales Island, about six miles south of Klaxock. There has been, however, a few houses and mill cure establishments there for some time, but by reason of the development of the fishing industry in king salmon and halibut during the past year, on this coast. Parties with capital became interested and a company was formed for the erection of a sawmill.—Douglas News.

Mine Inspector Appointed

Sumner Smith, of Berkeley, Cal., has been appointed to the position of inspector of mines of Alaska, under the provisions of the mine inspection bill passed at the last session of Congress. His official headquarters will be at Juneau and his duties will be to inspect all mine accidents and demand the installation of safety appliances. Smith was endorsed for the position by Governor Clark of Alaska and also by Secretary of the Interior Fisher.

The Juneau Record says that A. H. Mittsendorff, a Nushagak merchant, is the original George Balt, in the "Silver Horde," an Alaskan story. The book was written by Dave King, alias Rex Beach.

Mr. Geo L. Berg, a retired capitalist who was director of Art at the Alaska Yukon Pacific Exposition, and is Director of the Washington State Art Association, called on the "Sentinel" on his way north on the Jefferson.

His trip is, primarily, to interest Alaskans in the new Museum and Auditorium to be erected at Seattle in the near future, but also in the interest of an Alaska exhibit to be displayed in the Museum.

It seems to us that an Alaska exhibit could not fail to interest the tourist and homeseeker in this great territory.

Two splendid collections known as the Standley and Tozier collections have been secured and form a nucleus for a permanent Alaska exhibit. The former, collected by Captain Standley, was awarded a gold medal at Seattle and the latter, collected by Captain Tozier of the revenue cutter Grant, consists of Indian relics and curios which cannot now be duplicated.

When this exhibit is complete it cannot fail to attract many people to our territory, both tourists and homeseeker.

Let us help get this exhibit before the public as soon as possible and in that way give Alaska another boost.

Accident at Tokeen

While working in the quarries of the Vermont, Marble Co. at Tokeen, Anton O. Lien recieved injuries which caused his death.

The deceased, with others was raising a layer of marble, when a wedge-shaped piece became detached and dropped down, knocking over the unfortunate man and severing one foot just above the ankle.

The injured man was cared for as far as possible and then hustled aboard the gas boat Alaska Chief which made all speed towards Wrangell. On account of the dry Pass, the Chief could not leave Shakan until eleven o'clock, Friday, the 28th. Lien began to sink and died about 11:25

The remains were brought here and Saturday morning an inquest was held. From the testimony of A. Lyman, Supt of the Marble Co., Math Jetland, a relative of the deceased and Capt. Jungmarker, a fellow worker in the quarry, it was decided that the injury was purely accidental and could not have been foreseen and guarded against.

The deceased was a native of Norway and was about twenty years of age. The body was shipped to relatives in Tacoma on the Jefferson, Monday.

It was also proposed to have a Native Indian Dance for the Tourists on the first trip of the excursion steamer "Spokane," about the 20th of June, providing the co-operation of Chief Shakes and others of the leading natives who have a public spirit could be secured.

Mr. Moen made a conditional offer to build a gravel walk as far as the head of the bay for the sum of $500.00, said walk to be re-inforced in places by cement concrete, and this offer which we consider made in a very liberal spirit is now under consideration.

It is hoped that the residents of the town will do all in their power to assist the undertaking. Subscriptions in money or labour will be accepted, and if such labor is volunteered a date or dates during which it can be done will be set by the committee.
